Transforming the Electricity Grid with Antora's Energy Storage Technology

Dr. Adrienne Little

Bio:

Dr. Adrienne Little is currently the VP of Systems Engineering at Antora Energy, an early-stage startup focused on electrifying heavy industry with thermal energy storage for zero-carbon heat and power. Formerly a Rapid Evaluator at X (also known as Google [x], Alphabet's "Moonshot Factory"), she developed various hardware-based challenges in the energy space including the launch of Project Malta. At Malta Inc, she was the Thermal Systems Technical Lead, an independent grid-scale energy storage company spun out of X. Dr. Little was previously a Fellow at the Advanced Research Projects Agency for Energy (ARPA-E) at the U.S. Department of Energy where she worked on advanced manufacturing concepts, ARID portfolio technologies (Advanced Research in Dry Cooling), and investigated opportunities for modular nuclear reactor concepts. Dr. Little graduated from the Georgia Institute of Technology with both her MS and PhD degrees in Mechanical Engineering, and received her Bachelor's degree from the University of California at Berkeley.

The Practical Design of a Carbon Storage Injection Well Completion Using In-line Flow Control Devices to Maintain Injection Stability.

Michael Konopczynski Sub Surface Engineering Senior Advisor – Tendeka Inc.

While depleted oil and gas fields can provide important storage capacity for Carbon Capture and Storage (CCS); injection of carbon dioxide into extremely pressure depleted hydrocarbon fields can be problematic due to the phase change of CO₂. This can cause flow instability and result in adverse physical phenomena, such as the cooling associated with the latent heat of vaporization and Joule-Thomson cooling which could damage the completion equipment, reduce the hydrostatic head of CO₂ and make it difficult to inject carbon dioxide. This presentation describes the problem with CO₂ flashing in the injection string and proposes a solution to this problem using a combination of variable, autonomous or surface-controlled, flow control devices strategically placed in the injection tubing string to provide stepwise pressure drops with depth, and passive flow control at the reservoir interface.

Bio:

Michael Konopczynski is a Senior Advisor of Sub Surface Engineering at Tendeka Inc., providing customers expert advice and analysis on the application of Advanced Completion Technology worldwide. Prior to joining Tendeka, he was Director of Reservoir Solutions at Halliburton Completion Tools and Vice President of Technology at WellDynamics. Before joining WellDynamics in 2001, Michael was an employee of Shell Canada Limited for 20 years. His assignments with Shell included projects for steam assisted thermal recovery, CO₂ enhanced recovery, deep sour gas development, and gas-condensate developments in Canada, California, and the Sultanate of Oman. He is a 33-year lifetime member of the Society of Petroleum Engineers and is a frequent speaker at industry events.

A GLOBAL ENERGY CRISIS, AN AMERICAN SOLUTION

MAKE

PROBLEM: NOT ENOUGH ENERGY TO MEET RISING DEMAND

Washington should do more to support investment in new U.S. natural gas and oil.

SOLUTION: INCREASE AMERICAN NATURAL GAS AND OIL

Reasonable and smart energy policies are critical to supporting investment in long-lived natural gas and oil production.

MOVE

PROBLEM: LACK OF ENERGY INFRASTRUCTURE TO MEET GROWING DEMAND

Delays in permitting and reviews are blocking needed natural gas, oil and refined products infrastructure.

SOLUTION: STRENGTHEN U.S. ENERGY INFRASTRUCTURE, INCLUDING LNG PROJECTS

Infrastructure review and permitting processes must be streamlined to better distribute energy to Americans and to help meet rising demand from allies.

IMPROVE

PROBLEM: DELIVER AFFORDABLE, RELIABLE ENERGY WHILE CREATING A LOWER-CARBON FUTURE

Meeting energy demand with reliable, accessible energy while reducing greenhouse gas emissions is the challenge of our time – one that natural gas and oil are rising to address.

SOLUTION: CONTINUE INNOVATING TO REDUCE CARBON EMISSIONS AND PROTECT THE ENVIRONMENT

American natural gas and oil companies are committed to innovating lower-carbon technologies, lower-carbon energy development and cleaner products. Initiatives such as The Environmental Partnership are collaborating to help reduce emissions. Companies are also leading on carbon capture, storage and utilization, and looking to lead on hydrogen technology.

SOLUTIONS

MAKE

- Increase Access for Energy Development: The U.S. Interior Department should issue a robust, five-year offshore leasing program and hold quarterly onshore lease sales, with equitable terms.
- Protect Refining Technology Competition: Federal rules should continue to allow U.S. refineries to use critical process technologies to provide necessary fuels to consumers.
- Signal Support for Needed Energy Investment: Federal regulators should reconsider the Securities and Exchange Commission's (SEC) overreach on climate disclosure and should support needed capital investment in oil and natural gas.

MOVE

- Designate Critical Infrastructure: Major energy infrastructure should be deemed in the national interest and eligible for streamlined review.
- Support Pipeline Safety Innovation: Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration (PHMSA) reauthorization should ensure the ability to deploy the latest safety technologies, emerging fuels and sustainable operations.
- Revise the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA): NEPA reviews affecting many types of infrastructure should be uniform across federal agencies and limited to two years.
- Accelerate Liquefied Natural Gas (LNG) Projects and Lift Supply Chain Bottlenecks: Ensure the free flow of energy and commerce by expediting LNG project approval, lifting steel tariffs and relieving port congestion.

IMPROVE

- Clarify Tax Credits for Carbon Capture, Utilization and Storage (CCUS), Hydrogen and Clean Fuels: Additional guidance for Section 45Q will help advance CCUS and reduce the nation's carbon footprint. In addition, Section 45V tax credits for hydrogen from all sources should value equally each ton of carbon dioxide reduced.
- Advance Low-Carbon Infrastructure: The permitting regime for low-carbon infrastructure should be consistent, timely and predictable to encourage investment.
- Support STEM Education: Washington should continue to support the training and education of a diverse energy workforce through science, technology, engineering and math courses.

API Social Sponsorship

The American Petroleum Institute SJV Chapter is actively looking for networking social sponsorships. These networking socials help to build relationships, market products or services, and promote a positive outlook on the local oil and natural gas industry.

Sponsoring a social will include the following

- Email distribution of your company name to the API contact list (600+ industry related emails)
- Company logo and promotional items can be promoted at sign in/raffle table during the social
- Social event turnout is typically 40-60 industry related people
- Event will be promoted at API general meeting and API newsletter (600+ industry related emails)
- Possibility to have joint social with SPE (Society Petroleum Engineers) which will include their email distribution/newsletter promotion

Social Sponsorship Cost

- Cost can range from $600 - $2,000+
- Lower end sponsorships typically do not involve a private room secluded for the event but more of a brewery type setting providing appetizers or food for guest
- Higher end sponsorships will typically have a private room (petroleum club, 1933) or any place that will accommodate the event (providing appetizers/Dinner/Alcohol or what is within the budget)
- We can work with any budget
- If sponsorship costs are too high, we can look to host a co-sponsor social (you and another company) cost split in half
